Carpathia Government Solutions' General Manager to be Featured Speaker at Cloud Computing Conference

Ashburn, VA – November 5, 2009 - Carpathia Hosting, the leading provider of enterprise managed hosting services for government agencies and businesses, announced today that Seth Finkel, general manager of the Carpathia Government Solutions business unit, will present at the Cloud Computing Conference to be held November 10 from 1-4 pm at the Ronald Reagan International Center in Washington, DC.

Finkel will be the featured speaker at the event, where he will discuss how cloud computing is changing the way IT services are delivered and is allowing companies to maximize performance, minimize cost and improve the scope of their work.

Carpathia Hosting is known for its unique take on cloud computing and offers the first managed cloud solution designed for enterprises: Carpathia AlwaysOn/InstantOn™. This hybrid model is the first of its kind, enabling customers to seamlessly augment their colocated or dedicated infrastructure with instantly available, shared-infrastructure, therefore improving IT performance and value. Used together, Carpathia Hosting calls this unique approach Carpathia Cloud Orchestration™.

Those interested in hearing more about Finkel's take on cloud are encouraged to attend the Cloud Computing Conference.

The Cloud Computing Conference will bring together all of the major players in IT, including CIOs, CTOs and VPs of IT looking to learn the latest developments in Cloud Computing; infrastructure professionals, platform providers, application service providers, IT consultants and others looking to increase productivity and decrease cost for the IT equipment and programs their staffs need to be successful.
